A DYING MAN'S LAST LETTER.

Correspondence Between the Commander of a British Frigate and Burriel.

The Situation More Hopeful.

WASHINGTON, November 28.—The Cabinet was in session two hours and a half to-day, giving earnest attention to the questions pending between the United States and Spain. It was remarked by a Cabinet officer, after adjournment, that the business was in such a condition that a single telegram on either side might change the whole course of proceeding. To-night it can be confidently said that the question has assumed a more favorable aspect than it bore this morning, and that there are strong reasons for expecting results entirely satisfactory, and it may be added, on the same competent authority, that although nothing has as yet been reduced to precise terms, the situation is very hopeful.

The Coast Fortifications.

FORTRESS MONROE, November 28.—Twenty machinists arrived here this morning for duty in the ordnance machine shop, to work on fifteen-inch gun carriages now being constructed. Two machinists will leave to-morrow morning for Key West, and two for Charleston, to put the guns and carriages at those points in thorough working order.

President of the Cuban League.

NEW YORK, November 27.—General Martin McMahon was elected President of the Cuban League last evening. Vice President Wilson, who had been chosen President, sent word that while sympathizing with Cuba, his duties would not permit him to accept the honor.

Belligerent Rights to Cuba.

Petitions are to be put in circulation for signatures asking Congress to grant Cuba belligerent rights.

Converted Victims.

It was announced that a private letter from Santiago stated that the twenty men who embraced the Catholic faith, did so on condition that their lives should be spared. They were, however, shot.

More Executions in Prospect.

A Havana letter says: General Burriel has issued circulars to the Lieutenant Governors and Captains of the Eastern departments, calling on them to aid in crushing the rebellion by arresting all persons suspected of complicity with the insurgents, who soon, he says, with all help cut off by sea and land, will perish like wild beasts, as they deserve.

The Republican Government of Cuba.

NEW YORK, November 28.—M. Quesada and Carlos Del Castillo publish a card stating that they are the only representatives of the Republican Government of Cuba abroad, and that the collection of funds for suffering Cubans is without their authority, and against the commands of their Government, and condemning all attempts to enlist men, being in direct violation of the laws of the land.

Naval Preparations.

NEW YORK, November 27.—The greatest activity prevailed at all the departments of the Brooklyn navy yard to-day. The last iron plate was put upon the Spanish sloop of war Arapiles this afternoon, but she cannot get her guns and ammunition aboard before the meeting of Congress.

The People of Havana Opposed to Reparation.

NEW YORK, November 28.—A letter from Havana says the people there would refuse to allow any order from Madrid to deliver up the Virginius or make other reparation for her seizure and the execution of her crew to be carried out.

The Chase and Capture of the "Virginius."

The officers of the Tornado are quite reticent regarding the affair, but state that during the chase at one time the Virginius succeeded in putting fifteen miles between herself and pursuer, but that on board of the Tornado, by the most prodigious efforts, they overtook her. The smoke stacks of the Tornado were heated to red heat, and flames seemed to come from them rather than smoke; they were so hot as to cut off communication between the crew fore and aft, and several alarms of fire in the engine rooms were given.

According to the declaration of some of the expeditionists it is stated that two torpedoes were thrown overboard from the Virginius, in the hope the Tornado would run on them and be blown up. The waterproof lines of connection are still to be seen on board. When the Spanish boarding officer, Eugene Ortiz, with only ten men boarded the Virginius, he called on the captain to surrender, which he immediately did so. The steersman, who was ordered to the wheel, was threatened by one of the expeditionists, who cocked a pistol at him, but was prevented from using it. Bembeta at the time was in his shirt sleeves, having taken off and thrown his coat and vest into the furnaces of the Virginius, as an example to the others. During his stay in the Tornado he said that he had a cigarette ready to set fire to a cask of powder when about to be boarded, but at the last moment reflected that there were many young men under age aboard, whose lives would be spared, and he did not want to take upon himself the responsibility of sending them thus abruptly into eternity.

The deck of the Virginius when boarded was in the greatest confusion, covered with papers, insurgent cockades, five-pointed buttons, pieces of linen, harness and bayonet sheaths. The lower cabins were so filled with coals and the cargo that but twenty persons could find accommodations below, and consequently the remainder of the persons on board lived on deck.

Nothing is said by the officers concerning the details of the execution save that Captain Fry died like a brave man, and it was due to his appeal that a number of his comrades accepted in the last moment the consolation of religion and embraced the Catholic faith. An officer of the Tornado, in speaking of the manner in which

The Last Twelve Cubans Died,

among them being General Quesada's son, Valls Hidalgo, and others of the best families of Cuba, remarked, "I cannot exactly qualify their manner of receiving their end as valiant, but must call it cynical; they laughed and joked on the way to the place of execution, and upon arriving there, and after being compelled to kneel, some picked up handfuls of earth and threw it at their companions, with the words, 'Chico que la sea la tierra leve' (my boy, may earth rest light upon you.) At the last moment they commenced to shout, 'Viva Cuba libre!' &c., and bugles had to be sounded and drums beaten to drown their voices."

It is stated that Captain Fry took charge of this unfortunate enterprise on account of poverty. He had been for months without employment and could find none, and his wife and large family were in destitute circumstances.

A Waif from the "Slaughter House" of Santiago de Cuba—A Dying Man's Last Letter.

The following letter, written by William Baynard, mate of the Virginius, was received through the mails in this city yesterday by Henry Smith, of No. 59 West street:

ST. JAGO DE CUBA, Nov. 7, 1873.

MY DEAR SIR—Since I left New York in the "Isabella" I have had bad luck attending me the whole way. I was wrecked in Jacmel, Hayti, in a hurricane on the 28th of September last, and lost everything. Then I was sent on to Kingston, Jamaica, and was waiting for the "Atlas" to take us to New York, when I was offered a chance as mate of the steamship "Virginius" to go to port Limon with passengers, and when we got outside they made for Cuba, and when we were about 40 miles off the coast of Cuba we were captured by the Spanish war steamer Tornado and brought here. They have condemned us all to be shot this day at three P. M. Tell Mr. Miller, the mate of the "Water Lily," and likewise Harry Voss, and he can tell the rest of the folks.

Now my time is short. I am content to die, knowing that I have done nothing knowingly to deserve such a death.

God bless you all is the dying prayer of

WILLIAM BAYNARD,
Mate of the brig Isabella.

P. S.—Be so kind as to go to Mr. B. Wenberg's, No. 31 Old slip, and tell them of my fate.

The letter is written on a sheet of French note paper, with pale blue transverse rulings, resembling a water mark. Poor Baynard wrote an extremely neat hand, and appears even while penning this last terrible epistle to have maintained a remarkable calm demeanor. There is not a false scratch in the letter. He has been extremely cautious to insert all his points of punctuation, as printed above, though he omitted all punctuation except a period following the word folks. It appears, however, as though he had commenced to write the letter to some one else, as it opened with the words, "My Dear Charles," the word "Charles" being subsequently scored out and the word "Sir" substituted. It is believed he used the word "captured" inadvertently for the word chased, as it is impossible that, after eight hours' hard pursuit, the vessel could have been only 40 miles distant from Cuba. It is not a little singular that he has not one word to say against the Spaniards, and it is therefore assumed that those who wished to write to friends were notified by their captors that they must confine themselves solely to private personal affairs. It is quite probable that the letter was read by the Spaniards before they would allow it to be sent from the prison. No one who reads these last words of a dying man will think that he is telling other than the truth, or that he had any knowledge when he shipped that the vessel was bound on an expeditionary cruise to Cuba.

Million Dollars for a Life.

It is said that one of the men who was taken on board the Virginius, and who was afterwards shot, offered a million dollars for his life. The incident illustrates the mistaken estimate which men place on money when they give to its accumulation all their time and energy, thereby neglecting to lay up treasures that will be available when at last the weary worker lays his burden down,

"Upon the great world's altar-stairs,
That slope through darkness up to God."

The Pretended Conversions Discredited.

And now I have to write of one of the most dastardly incidents connected with the capture of the Virginius. The following is an account of what I refer to, and is a communication received by the Commander General of the Eastern Department, from the Government of the Archbishopric in Santiago:

MOST EXCELLENT SIR: An immense jubilee has taken possession of our heart, on informing you, as we do, that among the individuals who were placed in the chapel, (puesto en capillo), previous to their execution, there were twenty who, having lived all their lives out of the bosom of the Catholic Church, spontaneously and of their own free will begged to be admitted into it, abjuring their errors and receiving the waters of baptism, which was administered, on our authority, by the venerable parish priest of the Santisima Trinidad, Don Amador de Jesus Milanes. This incident, as glorious as it is rare, if the number of converts is taken into account, has undoubtedly been due to the zeal displayed by the priests (here follow their names) in the performance of their sacred office, to whom was assigned the duty of giving spiritual assistance to the condemned men. The Father Milanes should especially be mentioned, to whose care, and on account of his knowledge of English, we confided the foreigners, who composed almost the entire number of the converts. Divine Providence has willed that the efforts of these worthy priests should be crowned with success, giving by these means such a triumph to the cause of our holy religion; and we, who know the pious sentiments sheltered in the heart of your Excellency, cannot do less than recommend them to your consideration and esteem. We have the honor to inclose to your Excellency the names of the condemned, who, separating themselves from their sect (Protestant) in the last moments of their lives, embraced forever the Catholic religion, in order that your Excellency, should you judge it convenient, may make them public through your voice of authority, for the satisfaction and joy of this Catholic department. DR. VICENTE JOSE PICON.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Nov. 8, 1873.

To the Exmo. Senor Commander-General of the Department.

Names of the Condemned Alleged Converted to the Roman Catholic religion and baptized in the chapel of the jail on the morning of the 7th of November, 1873:

John C. Harris, native of Massachusetts, infidel.
Thos. Walter Williams, native of Manchester, Protestant.
Leopoldo De Gray, native of Havana, Protestant.
William Baynard, native of the United States, Protestant.
Exeguiel Burham, colored, native of Turks Island, Protestant.
Alfred Hassel, native of Great Britain, Protestant.
William Ross, native of Ardrossen, Scotland, Protestant.
Edward Day, native of the United States, Protestant.
Samuel Hard, colored, native of Nassau, Jew,
Walter J. Price, native of England, Protestant.
James Samuel, colored, native of Westmoreland, Protestant.
Leopoldo Reuner, native of Curacao, Protestant.
Francis Good, colored, native of the United States, Protestant.

Andres Frank, native of Bermuda, Protestant.
Thomas Gregg, native of Barbadoes, Protestant.
John Brown, native of the United States, Protestant.
Geo. Thomas, native of Jamaica, Protestant.

The conversion, however, of the above unfortunates apparently did not procure for them a Christian or decent burial, inasmuch as after they were "slaughtered" together with the remaining 17. The British Consul at Santiago de Cuba says it took their executioners nearly seven minutes to finish them. The unfortunates, or what remained of them, were thrown into a cart, without coffins or anything else, and all dumped into a ditch, which was covered with earth.

The twenty are dead, the jail of Santiago de Cuba, where they were confined, will never reveal what passed between the men about to pass to another world and the priests who surrounded them; no one will ever know of the promises, perhaps of life, which were made to them if they would only allow themselves to be sprinkled with water, but neither will any one believe that the men who were placed in the prison chapel at 12 o'clock midday, and taken out for execution at 4 in the afternoon, were really converted to the Catholic religion. Even Spaniards with whom I have talked, have deprecated the publication of what is stated above, and none believed that any such conversion took place, although they are inclined to think that hopes of a pardon were held out to the condemned as an inducement to profess. What a splendid thing for the Santiago Archbishop to announce—the conversion of twenty heretics! It is not surprising that he should have hit on this way to bring his name into connection with the capture of the Virginius.

Correspondence Between the Commander of a British Frigate and Burriel.

The steamship Crescent City, that arrived here yesterday from Havana, brought very heavy mails. Among other correspondence of importance was a copy of correspondence that took place between Gen. Burriel, the Governor of Santiago de Cuba, and Capt. Lambton Loraine, commander of her Britannic Majesty's frigate Niobe, respecting the capture of English subjects on board the Virginius, who were among the crew. The first communication was from the commander of the Niobe, asking the Governor of the city what was to be done with the English subjects, and hoped that no sentence would be put into execution before giving them a fair hearing. The next communication was from the Governor in reply, stating that up to that time none of the British subjects had been sentenced to death, and in case they were sentenced to death he had no power to prevent the sentence being carried out. There was some mistake in regard to the number of the British subjects; there were only eight found among the prisoners on board the Virginius, instead of eighteen, as first reported. The communication which followed was very long, and was from the Commander of the Niobe to the Governor of Santiago de Cuba, insisting that the Governor should interfere so that there might be no danger of any violence being inflicted upon the British subjects, and that all fears of their being executed be dispelled by his acting promptly in the matter. A strong protest accompanied the letter against the action taken by the Spanish authorities in capturing those found on board the Virginius and throwing them into prison before giving them a trial, and stating furthermore that they had no right to treat them either as prisoners of war or pirates. The capture of the Virginius, he said, was illegal, she being at the time on the high seas. A demand was also made that the French subjects should be fairly dealt with, especially as they had no one there to represent them; he claimed the same rights for them as he did for the English. In reply to this letter, Governor Burriel sent a communication in which he defended the action of the commander and officers of the Tornado, and remarked that the capture of the Virginius was a legal act. It was, he said, the duty of those nations who were clamorous for revenge to sustain Spain in her undertakings, and put piratical expeditions off the seas. No honorable nation would countenance such clamor or render any aid or protection to this criminal enterprise, as the Governor of Jamaica did in Kingston. This closed the correspondence at that time. Copies of communications were also received which had passed between the Governor of Santiago de Cuba and Rev. Father Josie Picon, who had charge of the victims before execution, in which he stated that several of the prisoners embraced the Catholic faith prior to their execution.

The Actual Number Executed.

The Havana Constancia of the 18th inst. publishes extracts of the official reports referring to the military operations which had taken place during the fortnight just passed in various parts of the island. After announcing the capture of the Virginius, the report, which is dated the 15th, continues, showing that fifty-three persons in all were shot:

All the crew, numbering 165, were captured, among whom were found Bembeta, Jesus del Sol, O'Ryan, a brother of Cespedes, and a son of Quesada, in addition to other persons of importance in the insurrection. Tried by a competent tribunal, fifty-three were executed.

Filibusters.

As the term filibuster has recently been engrafted upon the English language, it may be of interest just at this time to know the origin of the word. The river Vly, in Holland, is said to have furnished the name flyboat, in English—in Spanish, flybote, or by softening the first syllable, flibote—to a sort of small fast-sailing vessel of about 100 tons burthen, which in the seventeenth century held in sailing qualities about the same place now occupied by the Baltimore clippers. The buccaneers of the West Indies, who began their depredations on Spanish commerce in mere row-boats, as they acquired the means of a more formidable outfit selected these crafts as best suited to their purpose. Hence they became known in French as flibustiers, and in Spanish as filibusteros, an appellation gradually extended in those languages to any kind of pirates. By a still more extended meaning in the United States this term has come to be applied to designate any military enterprise set on foot and prosecuted against the Government of any State or country where no war exists, by mere adventurers seeking to overthrow such Government, and destroy the domestic institutions of its people for the enrichment of the adventurers themselves.

The Butcher of Santiago de Cuba.

Brigadier General Juan Nepomuceno Burriel Linch has naturally been deified to no small degree in the city of Santiago de Cuba on the occasion of his massacre of the unfortunates taken on board the ill-fated Virginius.

The Bandera Espanola, of Santiago de Cuba, of the 10th inst., publishes the following editorial remark, the wish being, doubtless, father to the thought: "A Madrid paper states that His Excellency Brigadier General Juan N. Burriel has been promoted to the rank of General, and, although the report lacks official confirmation, we suppose our colleague is well informed. Upon such an auspicious event we heartily congratulate His Excellency for his well-merited promotion in the name of the Spanish Club of this city and in our own behalf."

The Linch at the end of Burriel's name is the name of his mother, which the Spaniards oftentimes add to the paternal name. In all probability the original spelling was Lynch.

Wants to be a Cuban.

I want to be a Cuban,
And with the Cuban's stand;
A bombshell on my shoulder,
And a Spaniard in my hand.

I'm bound to have a scrimmage—
Alhambra is the man
To whale them dog-gone Spaniards,
If anybody can.

O, when they hear Vesoovyus,
And see his war-hoss lunge,
It seems to me them Spaniards
Will just throw up the sponge.

—Louisville Courier Journal.

The Virginius Betrayed.

The Star says it is rumored about Washington City that the Virginius was betrayed by Spanish emissaries on board, who caused her to spring a leak and managed otherwise to cripple her progress, so that the Tornado was able to overhaul her. Surprise has been expressed that the Virginius, a fast-sailing, ex-blockade runner, was outsailed by the heavy Tornado, but this theory would seem to afford an explanation.

CARTAGENA BOMBARDED.

The Black Flag Raised by the Insurgents.

SPAIN.

Cartagena Bombarded.

MADRID, November 27.—Cartagena was bombarded eight hours yesterday by the land batteries. The town and man of war Mendez Nunez replied with vigor. The outlying fort, Don Julian, was silenced by the fire of the besiegers. It is reported that its commandant and several other officers were killed. The insurgent fleet in the harbor got up steam to-day, for what purpose has not yet been developed. The rebel leaders, through the Admirals of the foreign squadrons, have requested a truce of two hours. It is believed propositions for the surrender of the city will soon be made.

MADRID, November 28.—During a two hours' truce at Cartagena yesterday, the Italian Admiral sent a vessel to the city, which returned with a number of noncombatants. At the close of the truce the firing was resumed by both sides, and continues to-day. The insurgents are making a desperate defense.

LONDON, November 29—6 A. M.—Special dispatches to the Times and Standard give the particulars of the bombardment of Cartagena on Wednesday. The arsenal and barracks were the chief marks for the besiegers' artillery, but the cathedral and hospital were also struck. On Friday the theatre, the Protestant church, and two entire streets were destroyed, and two hundred persons killed and wounded within the city. The insurgents have raised the black flag on the forts. At last accounts the fire around the city was subsiding. The loss of the besiegers has been exceedingly small. The officers of the foreign squadrons succeeded in obtaining an armistice of four hours on Friday night.

Revolt in a Jail.

LITTLE ROCK, November 28.—On Tuesday last the prisoners in the Clarksville jail overpowered the guards and took possession of their arms. The alarm was given before they got out, and the citizens of the town surrounded the jail of the prisoners. Sid Wallace, under sentence to be hung on the 23d of next month, fired a double-barrel shot-gun at two citizens in the street, severely, if not fatally, wounding both. The citizens then took possession of the first floor of the jail, put five kegs of powder in it, laid a train for some distance, and notified the prisoners that unless they surrendered in thirty minutes, they would blow up the building. After a little parley they surrendered, throwing their arms out of the window. As one of the guns struck the ground it went off, and shot, slightly wounding, three persons. Wallace and another of the prisoners were brought here last night and lodged in the penitentiary. He will be taken out and hanged next month. He has killed quite a number of men, among them the late Hon. Elisha Meers, Circuit Judge, and is the most desperate character in that section of country. Two brothers were in jail with him at the time, and are under indictments that will send them to the penitentiary.

Railway Bridge Damaged.

Two spans of the false work, about 250 feet, of the Cairo & Fulton Railroad bridge, across Red river, washed away last night.

HARTFORD.

Decision in the Credit Mobilier Suit.

HARTFORD, CONN., November 28.—The important Credit Mobilier suit, which was tried in this city last October has, been decided by United States Judges Hunt and Shipman, and the opinion was filed in the United States District Court in this city, to-day. The motion of the defendant's counsel to dismiss the bill, involving the question of jurisdiction, was decided in favor of the Government. On the second point the Court sustains the demurrer, and dismisses the bill as to the parties who demurred. The ground of the demurrer is that the damage to the Government by the Credit Mobilier fraud is too remote to be reached by the process pursued or by any other, and that the Government has at present no pecuniary interest to be reached by the bill. The Court takes the view that there is no trust anywhere raised in behalf of the Government to be protected. The motion to dissolve the injunction is granted. It is not unlikely that the matter may go to the Supreme Court, though there is not much probability of a reversal.

BONDS at Frankfort 97½.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 32½f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 109⅛.

THE opening of the Hoosac tunnel is briefly announced. Its construction was one of the grandest feats of engineering of modern times.

Two more of the ring thieves in New York having been added to the list of condemned felons, there is considerable uneasiness felt by such as have been in any way involved in Tweed's operations.

JAY COOKE & Co. have been adjudicated bankrupts. It is rather a sad commentary on their boasted solvency that they could only offer, after nearly three months of waiting, a dividend of five per cent. to their creditors. E. M. Lewis, Esq., President of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank, Philadelphia, was appointed Receiver.

THE resignation of Judge Sherman, of the United States Court, for the northern District of Ohio, is understood to relieve him of the necessity of defending himself against certain charges pending. His successor is Martin Welker, who has been more or less prominent in Ohio politics for the last twenty years. He was Lieutenant Governor in 1857, and represented Ohio in Congress from 1864 to 1868.

THE war against the Commissioners of Election for Philadelphia has begun in good earnest. Injunctions restraining them from exercising their prerogatives have been applied for. We shall soon know what the result will be. There are nice questions of law involved, but to us it seems entirely clear that the Commissioners of Election, appointed by the Convention, are entitled to the rights claimed by them.

WE REGRET that the Telegraph of this city, which did such excellent service in behalf of the new Constitution, while it was pending in Convention, and after it was finally passed upon, now seems disposed to criticise and defeat the instrument. This is probably the aim and purpose of the position it has now taken. The Telegraph has made a mistake in this, and two or three other movements. A newspaper cannot go back on its record, and seek to blow hot and cold, and retain public confidence. It is better to carefully determine what position shall be taken, and then maintain it, than to rashly assume an attitude only to speedily abandon it. Fortunately it is not of material consequence what a few newspapers may think or say. The people are in favor of the new Constitution, and will vote it by an overwhelming majority.

THE CITY AND COMMISSIONS.

Further investigations into the Water Bond trouble are understood to fix the liability for the bonds on the Nation Trust Company, the stockholders of which are individually liable. This will secure the city from loss, in all probability. Thus one disagreeable phase of the affair is in process of adjustment. Along with this agreeable intelligence comes other news, intimating that the manner in which the bonds were disposed of presumes criminal liability. The fact that the first financial irregularity, whatever be its particular character, is connected with one of the youngest of our Commissions, we urge that the Finance Committee of Councils which possesses the confidence, we think, of the community, investigate all the Commissions of the city, with reference to their financial condition. There have been rumors current relative to the Fire Commission particularly, and these have been more or less spoken of since the defalcation of Mr. Stewart in the postoffice, he being, we think, on that Commission. We do not mention this particular Commission, to throw suspicion on it, but to emphasize the fact that there is need of general investigation. The rumors current probably grew out of nothing more tangible than the fact of Mr. Stewart's connection with it, and there may be, and we hope is nothing wrong with it. But it is well known that the most trivial matters will often set the tongue of rumor going and now that disclosures have been made; of irregularities in the use of Water Bonds, it is proper to give attention to the entire subject, by thoroughly examining the affairs of all the Commissions.

Not only the city officers, but the people have a right to know that all the monetary affairs of the city are in proper condition. We have a multitude of Commissions, and these have had the handling of vast sums in bonds or money. So many reputations have been wrecked of late, that the mere fact of general good character is not a sufficient security in these times. Indeed, the Water Bond troubles illustrate that a commission may be made up of the purest men, and irregularities occur. No person can, therefore, properly interpose his good name, or previous standing as a reason why such investigation as we speak of should not take place. Nor does it involve a reflection on any one. The people are nervous, and anxious, and want to be certain that their moneys are all right. We echo this fact, and believe that the present is as good as any time in which to make a general clearing up of all doubts, by a thorough investigation into the affairs of all the Commissions.

We believe the time has come when financial affairs shall be taken out of the hands of the Commissions, and put in charge of the proper officers of the Treasury. But preliminary to that a thorough examination must be made, to know that all is right. In this time of general anxiety let this be done.

A SUGGESTION.

We have so much confidence that the new Constitution, without note or comment, will thoroughly refute every objection alleged against it, that we suggest that when an objection is raised, the people refer to the document itself, and carefully read the clause criticised. We believe in every case, the language of the Constitution will be a sufficient answer to the criticism made. Take, as an illustration, the judiciary article—the 16th section of which is attacked. It reads, "Whenever two Judges of the Supreme Court are to be chosen for the same term of service, each voter shall vote for one only, and when three are to be chosen, he shall vote for no more than two, the candidates highest in vote shall be declared elected." There are seven Judges, whose terms expire at different times, and there is scarce a possibility of two being elected, for the same term of service, at the same time. To elect to fill an unexpired term is not electing for a full term. It will be seen, therefore, that such a thing as electing "for the same term of service" is nearly impossible. But suppose this is done—what then? The Telegraph says the people do not elect. Who does? The very section quoted says that the "candidates highest in vote shall be declared elected." What, or whose vote? That of the people, of course. The people, therefore, elect. The case is this: Two Judges are to be elected. Suppose four candidates are nominated. Each vote casts a ballot for one man. The two of the four who have the highest number of ballots, thus cast, are elected, and elected, too, by the votes of the people. If this is called an impairment of the franchise, what are we to think of the lottery by which a Republican Senate was juggled into admitting Dechert or McClure as Senators?

The only solid objection to the article is this: That in an election involving two or more Supreme Judges neither political party will be likely to get all of them. And this was intended. It would not be best for the Republican party to have all the Supreme Judges of its faith. Yet under the rule criticised, so long as it is in the majority in the State, so long will it have a majority of Judges on the Supreme Bench; and when it is in the minority, if it ever should be, the Democrats will have a chance. But its members will be elected by the votes of the people, just as now.

TO RUPTURED PEOPLE.

To the general public the subject of rupture or bubonocele is a matter of very little interest. To one-sixth of the male portion of the community, however, it is a matter of grave and serious import, as that proportionate number are afflicted with that direful malady. Many of those afflicted are hardly aware of the fact that they are so; and there are others again who are apt to mistake rupture for some other disease, and again some other disease for rupture. In a displacement of the kind of which we are writing it is a serious fault to be in error. A delay of one day in procuring medical relief has often been at the expense of a life. Those who read this, will thank us for the knowledge of the fact, that there is a relief in every case, and a cure in many cases, in which a cure may be thought impossible. We invite all persons who are ruptured or who suspect themselves to be so, to call and procure the right kind of an appliance or ascertain if an appliance is necessary. KEYSTONE BREVITIES.

A FISH THIEF is the latest in Pottsville. Horrible!

ADAM FATZINGER has left Allentown, because he is said to have forged notes to the amount of $1,000.

SUNDAY evening last a little daughter of Samuel Loar, of West Bethlehem township, Washington county, fell from a fence and very severely fractured and dislocated her right elbow.

TUESDAY of last week, one of our physicians removed from the nose of a little three-year old daughter of Lyle Patterson, of Buffalo township, a piece of slate pencil about two inches in length, which had been in its hiding place for two months.—Washington Review and Examiner.

ON Friday morning last, at about eight o'clock, a young man named Peter Kuntzler, while assisting in moving a cog-wheel which revolves the drum of Hill & Harris' colliery of the Reading Railroad Coal and Iron Company's works, at Mahoning City, met with a fatal accident. The wheel was being removed for repairs, half a cog having been broken out. During the operation the other cog became detached and fell, striking Mr. K. on the breast, killing him instantly.

TUESDAY night of last week, while making examination of certain cells in the jail, Sheriff Ramsey discovered in one occupied by John M. Henry, a saw made from a case knife. As the teeth were very neatly and evenly cut, it was evident the instrument had been prepared outside the prison, and it is presumed it was passed to Henry by his wife during one of her visits to him. Of course it was the intention to use it in another attempt to escape, but the vigilance of the Sheriff has frustrated his design. Henry is one of those who escaped with Briceland and Edwards in April last, and is awaiting trial for stealing a set of harness from Alex. Henderson, of Buffalo township. He is a desperate character.—Review and Examiner.

THE Pottsville Miners' Journal says: Saturday morning a certain large, jolly, full-faced fellow met two of his friends and called them away from the street to "smile" with him. They sought a convenient nook, and after they had smiled, our friend asked to be congratulated on the arrival that morning of a son at his house. Then number two of the party asked the others to smile with him, and, after they had done so, said he wanted to be congratulated, as he had just been made a proud parent. Then number three asked the others to smile with him, and they did so. He, not to be odd in such right good company, made the same identical request for congratulation. They all smiled once more and went home to interview the strangers.

CARD.

The reduction in values that has taken place within the last few weeks in all kinds of Dry Goods has been enormous; prices of everything both in Foreign and Domestic Goods have declined so much that goods are selling today at much lower prices than ever before in the history of the dry goods trade.

We are pleased to announce to our customers and friends that we have fortunately been able to take advantage of the decline in the Eastern markets, and have purchased very largely at the reduced prices, and are now prepared to offer, and are now offering some of the most decided bargains that have ever been offered in this market. Our largely increased sales for the last few weeks convince us that the public appreciate our endeavors to furnish them GOODS AT LOW PRICES. That we are offering the bargains that we represent all who favor us with a call will be convinced of. Our stock is unusually full and complete. The Goods are all new and fresh, and the prices at least thirty per cent. lower than the goods have been sold within the last ten years. We are determined to move our immense stock as rapidly as possible, and will make prices that cannot fail to do it.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY EVENING, November 28.

There is no improvement to-day in the condition of our local money market. There is a continued demand for money far in excess of the supply. Confidence has as yet by no means been restored, and as a consequence money does not come out as freely as it ought to. Rates are to high for any legitimate business, and unless some relief is afforded in some direction, some of our business interests will be largely impaired, if not entirely destroyed. The coming session of Congress will be looked forward to with interest, in the hope that some measure of relief will be adopted.

In the New York market to-day, stocks have been rather weak; a decline taking place in most of the list, with the lowest quotations at the close. No doubt there will be heavy realizations, and a very considerable decline from the present figures may be expected.

Gold to-day opened at 109¾, and after touching 109⅝, closed at 109⅜. The unsettled condition of our relations with Spain and the very probable increase of our circulation by Congress will have a tendency to advance the premium on gold very considerably from the present figures.

In Philadelphia stocks have remained steady, with, however, a slight falling off in Pennsylvania Central.

Luther S. Kauffman, Broker, No. 96 Fourth Avenue, furnishes the following quotations of bonds and stocks from the latest advices by telegraph:

NEW YORK, November 28, 1873.

Money was in active demand at 7 currency to 7 gold. Sterling was weak at 107⅝ for sixty days and 108⅜ for sight. Customs receipts $394,000. Gold closed at 109⅜, after selling at 109¼@109⅜. Loans were at 6, 7, 7 gold, and 1-32 for carrying, and flat for borrowing. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $227,000. Clearings $45,000,000. Governments were firm. State bonds were quiet. Stocks generally were strong from the opening until about midday, with an advance in prices ranging from ¼ to 1¾ per cent. This improvement was afterwards lost in many cases, but after the second call buoyancy was again a feature of the market. During the last hour of business depression prevailed, and some stocks declined to the lowest point of the day, the market leaving off feverish in tone. The volume of business was large and dealings excited throughout the day. The advance in gold and the depression in stocks late in the day was caused by reports that Minister Sickles had left Madrid, that there was increased activity in the navy yards, and vague rumors of failures which could not be authenticated. The stock sales between ten and two o'clock amounted to 191,000 shares, of which 44,000 were Western Union, 27,000 Union Pacific, 12,400 Wabash, 10,000 Ohio, 15,000 New York Central, 6,000 St. Paul, 15,300 Lake Shore, 13,400 Northwestern, 3,500 Rock Island, and 8,500 C. Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, November 28, 1873.

Trade in general merchandise was generally reported dull to-day, and furthermore, no material or permanent improvement is expected until after the holidays; business is always dull at this season, although, as might be expected, it is more so than usual, at present. It is encouraging to learn, however, that trade is improving elsewhere. A late Baltimore exchange says business there is quite active, and prices generally firmer, with an advancing tendency. Our advices from the west are also more encouraging, and it is hoped and expected that business all over the country will revive very considerably early in January if not before.

APPLES—In fair demand and firmer, but not quotably higher; $1.50@2.50 per brl. for common to fair, and $3@3.50 good to prime.

APPLE BUTTER—60@70c per gallon.

BEANS—In heavy supply, and prices are weak and drooping; sales at $2@2.50 per bushel, according to quality.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand for the finer grades, and we can report regular sales at 27@28 for choice roll, and 29@30 for extra. There is not much inquiry for low grade.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is weak and drooping; 4@4½c ℔ ℔.

CHEESE—Trade is moderately active but there has been no recent change in rates; we continue to quote prime Ohio Factory, in job lots at 15@15½, and New York Goshen at 15½@16.

CARBON OIL—Is still quoted at 10½@11c by the car load, and 1@2c additional for smaller lots.

CIDER—Is quiet and unchanged, $6 to $9 per brl. as to quality.

CRANBERRIES—Sales of Jersey's at $10@12 ℔ brl. for good to choice.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged; apples, 6@8c per ℔, as to quality. Peaches, 10@12.

EGGS—Fresh eggs continue in light supply, and bringing full rates, 28@30. Pickled continue to come in freely and the market is dull, and prices so irregular that it is impossible to quote correctly—they are ranging all the way from 15 to 25.

FLOUR—There is a firmer feeling, but so far as our market is concerned, there are no new features; the demand continues meagre, while prices remain unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $6.50@6.75 for Wisconsins; $7@7.25 for Minnesotas, and $7.50@8 for fair to choice red winter wheat.

GRAIN—The arrivals continue meagre, and with diminished stocks and an average demand prices are tending upward. The Oat market may be quoted firm at 47@48 for mixed to prime white—some dealers are holding the latter at 49 and even 50, and it is claimed that taking the west, our main source of supply, as a basis, there is no margin under the last named rates. Shelled Corn is in very limited supply, and prices are firm and tending upward; sales reported at 61@63, and it is predicted that prime yellow will command 65 before many days elapse. Ear Corn may be quoted at 56@58 for new, and 60@63 for old do. Rye is firmer and in limited supply but unchanged, 90@95. Wheat is quiet and unchanged; we continue to quote at $1.40@1.45 for fair to prime red, and $1.50@1.55 for amber and white. Dealers say that there is no money in handling wheat at present rates, and the accounts for the light receipts.

GROCERIES—Sugars continue weak, and the indications are that prices will soon be as low as they were prior to the advance, as the war cloud seems to be passing away. Coffees, according to our latest advices from New York and Baltimore, are firmer and more active. No new crop New Orleans Molasses in market as yet, but some dealers have them on the way—the supply of old is almost exhausted.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 26½@27; good to prime 25½@26c; fair, 23@24c. Roasted one lb. packages 30c; loose, 29½.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 12½c; Crushed, Powdered and Granulated, 11¾; Standard A, 10¾; B, 10½; Ex. C, 10.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 70@72c; Prime 65@67.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 70c; Sugar Drips, 60c; Amber, 60@65; lower grades, 35@40, as to quality.

RICE—Choice Carolina 9c; Patna, 8½c; Rangoon, 7½@8c.

HOMINY—Is still quoted at $4.50 ℔ barrel to the trade, and $5 in a jobbing way.

HAY—Baled continues dull, but prices remain nominally unchanged, ranging from $18@22 per ton on wharf and track, according to quality.

ONIONS—Selling in small lots at $4@4.50 per barrel, as to quality.

POULTRY—The market is overstocked, and dealers are accepting almost any price they can get. Dressed Chickens, Turkeys, and Ducks may be quoted at 10@12 cents.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows in small lots from store at $1.10@1.15 per bushel. Baltimore Sweets $4.00@4.50 per brl. Jersey's, $5.50@6.

PEAS—$1.65@1.75 ℔ bushel.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ℔ lb, 12½; Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 9¾; Sugar Cured Breakfast Bacon, 11½c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 15½. Beef tongues, $7.50 ℔ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 8¼c. Bacon Rib Sides, 8½c. Bacon Short Rib Sides, 9c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 9½c. Mess Pork, $15.00 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in trcs, 9. Do. half bbls, 9¼c. Do. bkts 10c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 13c. Do in 5 lb. 11¼c do. in 3 lb. pails 12¾c ℔ pound. Do. in 5 lb. pails, 12¼. Do in 5 lb. pails, 13½. Ham Sausage, 10.

RAGS—Quoted at 2¾@3c.

SALT—Is quoted at $1.60 ℔ brl. by the car load, and $1.85 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Flax Seed, unchanged at $1.85@1.90. Nothing doing in either Clover or Timothy.

TALLOW—Quoted at 6¾@7.

WHISKY—Highwines quoted at 95@98c per gallon in job lots.

PITTSBURGH IRON AND NAIL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, Nov. 28, 1873.

The market for all kinds of finished irons, while it is by no means active, is about all that can reasonably be expected under existing circumstances. Orders, as a general thing, are slacking off, as they usually do at this particular time, but the mills are all in operation, some of them are running double turn, and it is not likely that there will be any "shutting down" before January, when it is customary to stop a couple of weeks to take stock and make repairs. Prices remain unchanged, and collections, as a rule, are reported satisfactory. The outlook is regarded as being favorable, and manufacturers generally expect an increased trade early next year. It is known that stocks in second hands are very much reduced, as both jobbers and consumers have been buying very sparingly not only since the panic set in, but long before. The Nail trade continues dull, and is likely to remain so during the next sixty days; however, this is nothing unusual, as the demand is always very meagre at this season of the year.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, November 28, 1873.

Trade continues very quiet, both as regards Crude and Refined, and the market is devoid of any new features worthy of special notice. Parker dispatches reported sales of Crude at 75 to 82½ per brl., according to pipe line, equal to about 1⅞@2⅛c per gallon delivered here. Refined is quiet and nominally unchanged; 10½@11c on cars here, and 13 delivered in Philadelphia. We are cognizant of some sales having been made recently at 10¾ on cars here, for western shipment, but we have failed to hear of a single refiner who was selling to contract for Philadelphia at 13—they claim that it can't be done without incurring an actual loss.

Oil barrels quiet and unchanged, countries, $1.70; city make, $1.75. The feeling appears to be gaining ground that the lowest notch has been touched—at least for the present.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, November 28.—Business was quiet to-day in all branches, and the aggregate distribution was unimportant. The market for cotton goods is quiet, but unchanged. Early price revisions are anticipated. Bleached shirtings and cotton flannels are more active. Grain bags are now in fair supply. Cotton yarns are in demand. Wool flannels, woolens and blankets are quiet. Felt skirts are in good request. Shawls are dull.

PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, November 28, 1873.

While there has been no perceptible improvement in the demand for pig iron, there seems to have been rather more inquiry this week, and notwithstanding the market is still in an unsettled and unsatisfactory condition, the outlook is generally regarded as more encouraging. For several weeks past it was almost impossible to obtain a bid; now commission merchants inform us they could effect sales providing they could get furnacemen to accept very low rates. Producers appear to be very confident that the lowest notch has been reached, and if consumers could only satisfy themselves on this point, they would doubtless buy pretty freely, but they are apprehensive, notwithstanding pig is offering considerably under the actual cost of making it, that it may go still lower. It is this, together with the stringency in money matters, that has caused them to hold off and buy only in small lots to meet immediate wants, and the result is, the great majority of the mills have little or no stock. No. 1 mill iron is quoted at $28 to $30, 4 months, with sales reported at $25, cash. No. 1 foundry iron is offering at $30@31, 4 months, and there seems to be little or no demand for it at any price.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, FRIDAY, November 28, 1873.

CATTLE.

Trade was quiet to-day, the bulk of the stock having either been sold or shipped out, and the market presents but little that is really new or important. Prices have undergone little or no change since the date of our last report. Prime to extra shipping steers, 5¾@6; medium to good, 4¾@5¼; common to fair, 3½@4¼. Ulery, Hamilton and Co. sold two cars of extra southern Ohio steers at 6.20—the finest bunch of cattle that has been on sale here for some time.

HOGS.

The market was very stiff to-day, and as the supply, especially of the best grades, was scarcely equal to the demand, sellers had but little difficulty in establishing an advance. Sales were made at from 4.60 to 4.85.

SHEEP.

The market for this class of stock continues quiet but there has been no quotable change in prices since the date of our last report. Prime to extra fine wool, 4¾@5; medium to good, 4@4¼.

New York Iron Market—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, November 27.—American Pig—There is little or no change in the position of the Pig Iron market, unless it may be said that there is a little more inquiry. Prices are reaching a point that naturally makes consumers think of buying to cover their requirements next year. There has not been any business of this kind yet, however, for several reasons. Some think the bottom has not yet been reached, particularly as December is a dull month in iron. Besides, the lowest quotations are invariably for cash and manufacturers are not easy in their finances as to be desirous of paying cash for iron they are not in present need of, and the companies are not disposed to contract for future delivery at quotations now current. Many companies are nominally holding their iron at $35, but we heard of offerings down to $30. This latter is an extreme price and is not generally quoted, but $32, cash, is a common figure. Great reductions in the cost of ore and labor have been made in the Lehigh region. A reduction of 30 per cent. in wages went into effect this week, and we heard of no trouble in consequence. Fully one half the furnaces in this district are out of blast. We quote: No. 1 Foundry, $31@35, No. 2 Foundry, $28@30, and Gray Forge, $21@25.

Scotch Pig.—The stock of Scotch Iron is small, but sufficient for the demand. Sales embrace 200 to 300 tons of Glengarnock, of which brand the bulk of the stock here consists, at from $38@40. We quote: Gartsherrie, $48; Coltness, $43 to $45; Eglinton, $39.

Bar.—Many mills are closed and others talk of closing, while some that are closed talk of resuming work. We quote 3@3¼c per ℔. Iron can be bought at 3c, and some mills absolutely refuse to sell at less than 3¼c. There is little doing. Store prices in this city are nominally unchanged at $72.50 per ton, though a good buyer can shade this price.—Iron Age.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

The stage of water last evening was 9 feet 5 inches and falling rapidly. Weather cloudy and cold. Business continues very dull. Freights for all points scarce.

The Granite State arrived and departed. The Exchange is among the first boats due.

The Juniata, for Cincinnati, will positively take her departure to-day, and passengers and shippers should make a note of this, and act accordingly.

Rich. Pemberton, second mate of the steamer Granite State, was severely injured yesterday while attempting to place the rudder, which had been taken out for repairs, in position. The rudder had been raised by the men, when some one cried to let go, and it fell, striking Mr. Pemberton across the back. The attending physician stated that his spine was badly hurt, but that if he was not injured internally, he would probably recover.

The Comet, Captain McClintock, will take her departure for St. Louis this evening.

The new steamer Shippers Own, Capt. Ryan, is announced for Nashville.

The Reindeer is reported as having stuck a part of her tow at the head of Montgomery's Island. This is the only accident reported to the coal fleet thus far.

The Paragon, Captain Darragh's new steamer, will soon be ready to load for New Orleans.

—A Deputy U. S. Marshal visited the Wm. J. Lewis at Vicksburg, quarreled with the barkeeper about a license, snapped a pistol in his face, and threatened to arrest Captain Crapster and take him up town for violation of the internal revenue law. The Herald thinks he was drunk. It is presumed that Captain Crapster had the man led ashore quietly but firmly.

The Rover, with two barges ore and one empty barge, left Cincinnati for this port on Wednesday evening. Capts. Dean and Thos. Greenlee are pilots.

—Louisville paper says: A collision occurred at the foot of Fourth street on Sunday, about 1 o'clock, between the Memphis packet Arlington and the towboat Jesse, resulting in the loss by the latter boat of all the guards on all three of her decks aft of the boiler on the starboard side, beside the bulwarks being stove in. The damage to the Arlington was immaterial, and after the Jesse landed and made some repairs, both boats proceeded on their way.

—The Cincinnati Gazette says: At 8 o'clock last evening George Cayton, of New Orleans, and Miss Fannie J. Carnes, of this city, were married at the residence of the bride's father, and left for Memphis to take passage on the steamer John D. Maud for New Orleans. Mr. Cayton is a St. Louis and New Orleans pilot, and his bride is the daughter of Mr. Adolphus Carnes, of this city.

—Sioux City, 22d: River one foot higher than last week. Five steamers here, namely, the E. H. Durfee, Key West, Far West, Nellie Peck and Silver Lake. The E. H. Durfee reached here yesterday morning from her tedious up river trip. She may yet go south. Grant Marsh will spend about $7,000 on the Hiram Wood, and run her between Fort Lincoln and Bismarck.

—Captain James E. Rankin says it is a fixed fact that John H. Oglesby has bought a half interest in the Indiana for $6,000, and will go in the office. She leaves New Orleans this week for Cincinnati, and will run from there to New Orleans.

—Captain Batchelor, commanding the Arlington temporarily, says that boat made the trip to Memphis and back without once having been hailed for business.

—The little steamer Danville came near being destroyed by fire at Little Rock, on Tuesday, damage, $360.

—The W. J. Lewis went into Vicksburg, on Saturday, on one wheel, on account of her piston head coming off several miles above that point.

—N. B. Fowler, formerly clerk on the Thompson Dean, still adheres to his milk farm, forty miles east of St. Louis, and he makes money, too.

—The Illinois is rising at Peoria, and is clear of ice.

—The St. Luke's flour and bacon were sold at underwriters' sale Monday at Shreveport.

Report of the Secretary of the Interior.

THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK

Speaker Blaine and the Appointments.

WASHINGTON, November 28, 1873.

Speaker Blaine and the Appointments.

It is known here that Speaker Blaine is in a quandary in reference to the appointment of Messrs. Garfield, Dawes, Kelley and Schofield as chairmen of important House Committees. He desires to continue Mr. Garfield at the head of the Committee on Appropriations, but that gentleman's inclinations during the last campaign to endorse the Grangers' movement has made him quite distasteful to many influential Republicans. He is also considered one of those advanced Republicans who would have no objections to assisting the formation of a new party. Mr. J. Schofield, being a member at large from the great State of Pennsylvania, as well as having satisfactorily discharged the duties of chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, would be a suitable man to fill the position. Again, but for the Credit Mobilier taint, which renders his reappointment questionable, and this latter reason also applies to Messrs. Davis and Kelley when the question of giving them chairmanships is considered. Some think the true policy of Mr. Blaine is to ignore these gentlemen entirely in reference to chairmanships, as he would in no way be effected by such action. The reason for dropping them from their former positions in the house would be well known to the country.

Connecting with the Weather Bureau.

The appropriation of $30,000 to connect the life-saving and storm-signal service has resulted in making the connection at Sandy Hook, Monmouth Beach, Squan, Barnegat, Atlantic City, Peck's Beach, and Cape May. The connection is in course of extension to the N. C. coast. This winter will test the value of the combination, and it is believed that the anticipated benefits will be realized.

Secretaries Robeson and Fish.

It is reported on good authority that the official relations existing between the Secretaries of State and Navy are interrupted in an unpleasant manner, growing out of Secretary Robeson's declared feeling for war with Spain and his diligence in preparing the navy therefore. The Secretary of State does not coincide in the propriety of these public manifestations of war and the heavy orders from the Department for ammunition of war. DIAMOND.

[By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 27, 1873.

Report of the Secretary of the Interior.

The Secretary of the Interior, in his annual report, regards the situation in the Indian service as favorable and as a vindication of the propriety and practicability of the humane policy which was inaugurated at the beginning of President Grant's executive term, and which has governed the department in the transaction of all business pertaining to the conduct of Indian affairs. Satisfactory progress towards the accomplishment of the ends sought to be attained by this policy has already been made, fully justifying the hope that it will eventually achieve the end in view. The Secretary recommends that the system of cash annuities be abolished, and that payments to Indians be hereafter made in goods and supplies. He suggests that the money due the prairie bands of Pottawatomies and Kansas Indians be invested in Government bonds, and placed to the credit of said Indians respectively, for the purpose of their civilization, to be used by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for that object, both interest and principal, at such times and in such manner as the President of the United States may direct. The Government should assist Indians desirous of insuring a permanent home by donations of stock and farming implements. The first step toward the permanent settlement of the Indians in fixed homes is the establishment and rigid enforcement of regulations to keep them all upon their reservations. The Secretary says the Sioux nation is almost completely surrounded by tribes that are really friendly to the Government and at the same time bitterly hostile to the Sioux. If these friendly tribes could be liberally supplied with improved fire-arms and ammunition, the present supremacy of the Sioux might in a few years be destroyed with but little aid from the army. The Secretary refers to the lawless condition of the Indian Territory, and says if the Ocmulgee Constitution, with the proposed amendments, is not adopted at the next meeting of the Indian Council, and Congress shall not deem it advisable to erect a territorial Government within the territory, he trusts that necessary legislation may be obtained to at least provide for the organization of a court or courts therein, under the jurisdiction, so far as the appointment of judicial officers is concerned, of the Federal Government.

The Secretary invites the attention of Congress to the request from a colony of Mennonites residing in Southern Russia for a modification of the existing land laws in certain particulars, to enable them to settle upon our public domain in a compact colony. The entire area they will probably require will be about five hundred thousand acres.

The Secretary notices the business of the land, pension and education bureaux, railway and geological surveys, the census and other subjects coming within the range of his department.

Celebration by the Veterans of 1812.

At the celebration of the veterans of 1812, last night, General Sherman responded to the toast, "The Army and Navy," saying nine-tenths of the present army had seen service in the war of the rebellion, most of them being veterans of from eight to twenty battles. Our army is much too small, but should occasion arise, a war with Spain or other powers, they could fill the ranks by the blast of a trumpet, as it were, and put a large force in the field. The General spoke in the highest terms of the officers and men of the navy.

The Yellowstone National Park.

The report of the Secretary of the Interior comprises, beside various other matters, annual statistical reports of all railroads in which the Government is interested. The Secretary also refers to the Yellowstone National Park, urging Congress to take early steps to protect this park from the vandalism of visitors, and says its boundaries should be properly surveyed and located, as many persons desire to settle upon the public lands contiguous thereto.

HOME NEWS.

Primary Meetings To-day.

The primary meetings for the nomination of Republican candidates for Councils and ward offices, in a number of wards, takes place this afternoon, and it is the duty of every Republican to attend and see that none but good men are placed in nomination. Now is the time to see that the very best men are selected, as a nomination, in many of the wards, is equivalent to an election. The people are ripe for rebellion, and unless the selections are satisfactory, citizens' tickets will be placed in the field, and no doubt elected in some of the wards. This is the time to make assurance doubly sure by selecting the right men.

Obituary.

We are sorry to announce the death of Mr. Alexander McClintock, a well-known and highly-respected citizen of Pittsburgh, which occurred last evening at his residence in Lawrenceville. While his family was not entirely unprepared for his death, they hardly anticipated it so soon. Mr. McClintock was well known among the business men of this city, having been for many years engaged in the carpet business on Fifth avenue. He also served in Councils for a while, and was a member of the original Duquesne Greys. The notice of the funeral will be found in another column.

Dissolution of the Eureka Insurance Company.

The stockholders of the Eureka Insurance Company held a meeting on Wednesday evening last. It was not public, but we learn that the following business was transacted: The deficiency in the company's accounts, through the action of Mr. Finney, the Secretary and Treasurer, is $80,000. The assets of the company are $90,000. It will thus be seen that the company, notwithstanding the deficit, is perfectly sound. Moreover, the amount of Mr. Finney's bond is $18,000, and the amount of his private property, which he assigned to Capt. Beltzhoover, one of the directors, as trustee, is $25,000. The general impression appearing to be that it would be best for the company to cease business, a committe of five was appointed to balance the accounts and square them up. The policies of those holders who desire it will be renewed in other companies, or the premiums on unexpired policies will be refunded.

The Prisoners Thanksgiving.

Thanks to the kindness and forethought of Rev. Dermitt, chaplain of the county jail, the prisoners confined in that institution were not permitted to go unprovided for on Thanksgiving day. A sumptuous feast was provided for them and each individual managed to store away in his hold his full share of the good things that were spread before them. About noon the guests sat down to the table spread in the long jail hall, and which under the tasteful arrangement of the chaplain's daughters presented a very neat appearance. Speeches were made by Rev. Dermitt, Messrs. D. I. K. Rine, R. L. Dudley and others. Miss Dermitt sang "Home, Sweet Home" in a manner so effective that more than one man hung his head to hide the glistening tears. The affair was an entire success, and will no doubt be remembered by the prisoners as a bright green oasis in the lonesome dreary life they lead. To those who rendered assistance in this matter the warmest thanks of the chaplain are tendered.

The Railroad Confidence Man.

T. A. Field, alias about fifty aliases is is still in jail, but more informations will be made against him to-day before Alderman Taylor, when he will have a chance to take a short walk. It seems from memorandas in the prisoner's possession, that he was considerable of a lady's man. He had several letters in his possession from worthy young ladies in this city, who probably did not know of his real character. When he was searched, he begged that these letters would not be made public, as they had no connections with his doings. His memorandas showed a profuse liberality: To one lady he gave a set of furs, another a silk dress, another a lace shawl, another a set of bracelets, gold watches, music and trinkets ad libitum were marked down, showing that he had been very liberal with the fair sex. His real name is said to be John Moore, and his portrait adorns the rogues gallery, as the famous railroad confidence operator. However, he has been cut short this time, and it is probable, that a "fair one" in Kansas who is "dying to see" him, will not have that pleasure for some time to come. The name of T. A. Field, which Moore assumed upon his arrest, is that of the young man who was instrumental in having him arrested and who had no connection whatsoever in the letter forgeries or the getting of the passes.

Pass it Around.

The members of the Bethel Lodge, No. 40, A. O. U. W. (Ancient Order of United Workmen) have set an example worthy of imitation by all similar institutions, and one which is deserving of the highest commendation. They have not been looking after their own interests, in a selfish manner, but have been doing all in their power to alleviate the suffering and want of those, who by misfortune have been thrown out of employment. If all who possessed the means were like the members of Bethel Lodge, very few would suffer during these trying times.

This Lodge decided to do what it could and not to wait upon others to suggest some plan. They had it announced from several of our City pulpits, in the immediate neighborhood, that they would distribute five hundred loaves of bread, to those in need, on Thursday morning November 27 (Thanksgiving day.) In accordance with the announcement the 500 loaves were furnished by Mr. J. W. M'Gimpsey, a member of the Lodge and a gentleman who is always ready to assist those who need it, and who takes a delight in doing a noble deed.

The loaves were distributed at the store of Mr. J. W. Craig, corner of Van Bram street and Fifth avenue, also a member of the order. We are glad to know that this lodge is principally made up of gentlemen of this class, to whom it is a pleasure to alleviate the sufferings of those in want around them. Indeed all that the members appear to regret now is that they cannot do more, but have expressed themselves as willing to do all in their power. How many more such lodges in our city will go and do likewise?

ALLEGED PRINTERS' CONSPIRACY.

The Hearing Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon twenty-six of the printers, members of Typographical Union No. 7, who are charged by the proprietors of the Telegraph, Dispatch and Commercial, with conspiracy, had a hearing before Alderman Strain. Mr. Alexander Rook, of the Dispatch, Mr. Egan of the Commercial, Mr. McConnell of the Telegraph, Alex. McWilliams, foreman, and Mr. Wiseman, the pressman of the Dispatch, were examined and testified as to the men leaving the offices without notice or without any apparent reason, showing that there must have existed a conspiracy among them to injure their employers. The defence offered no witnesses and the prisoners were held in the sum of $700 each for Court, nearly all furnishing the required surety.

UNIMPORTANT FIRES.

Two Alarms Last Night

The fire bell at half past eleven o'clock last night rang out an alarm from box 218. It was occasioned by a fire having broken out in the barn of a man named Conners on Oat alley, Sixteenth ward, late Bloomfield. The barn with its contents, coal and wood, was entirely consumed, involving a loss of about two hundred dollars, upon which there was no insurance. About one o'clock this morning the bell again sounded, and this time box 48. The little two story frame building next to the corner of Fifteenth street, No. 219 Penn avenue, occupied by Mrs. McGrew, a widow, as a cigar store, was partially destroyed this time, involving a loss of two hundred dollars. This is fully covered by insurance.

NATIONAL REFORM.

Interesting Meeting in Birmingham.

An interesting meeting was held last evening in Birmingham, in the U. P. church. Rev. Wm. M. Coleman, pastor. Mr. J. J. Adams occupied the chair. The exercises began by seeking the favor, blessing and guidance of God, in prayer.

Rev. D. B. Wilson was called on to state the object of the meeting, after which he said the issue was forced on us by the bold demands of infidelity, by the corruption of politics and by our obligations as Christians. The amendment to the Constitution will mould the divers and adverse elements of the nation into a great, moral, christian power.

Rev. J. S. Axtell followed, saying that there was one class opposed to the movement, crying out, "What is the use?" another class, because they dread the consequences of such an agitation; another because they hate the truth. But the discussion is thrust upon us and we must meet it, and will, let all the consequences come.

Mr. W. M. Shank then addressed the audience. The church and State were too long united. Each is a distinct moral person, and one must not control the other. They are co-ordinate institutions, both subject to one Lord.

Rev. A. M. Milligan next appeared. Our design is not to revolutionize our country, but to save her and her original institutions. The amendment necessary to retain the Bible in common schools, to preserve the oath from prostitution, to defend the laws of christian marriage, and to establish all the christian institutions of the land.

The audience manifested an intense interest and adjourned at a late hour.

SUDDEN DESCENT.

Unlucky Result of a Spree.

William Ashton is a nailor, and to prove that he is good at his trade, he will sometimes get "drunk as a nailor." William is supposed to belong to New Castle. Last evening he was still celebrating Thanksgiving day, not successfully, but well. He went into the grand vestibule of the Opera House on Fifth avenue, seeing the sign of "saloon," he sought the narrow passage that leads to whisky "straight." He was top-heavy, so descent was easy and successful, in regard to speed, but not as to safety. The fact is, his feet took an upward stroke and his head a downward one, and he came to the foot of the stairs on his face, in an insensible condition. The manly form of officer Silvius, under whose arm the giant Leader man would be no where, quickly hovered on the scene, and he, with the aid of one or two others, carried the apparently lifeless form of Ashton through the crowded thoroughfare to the Reed Hotel on the Diamond, from whence Dr. McCoy was hastily summoned, and he appeared upon the scene with unusual speed. Then an examination was made of the injured man. Soon he came to, and he "blessed" the Doctor for tearing his shirt, and objected even to having his face washed. His injuries proved to be a few cuts about the head, which the physician dressed. After this had been accomplished William was gently laid upon a couch in a cell and there he sought "nature's sweet restorer," to wake up with a sore head in the morning.

The Hiland Avenue Bonds.

To the Property Owners on Hiland Avenue:

So much has been said of late in reference to city bonds that we deem it our duty to make this statement in reference to the bonds issued for the improvement of Hiland avenue. Bonds to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars were signed by the Commissioners (the probable cost of the improvement) and placed in care of the Masonic Bank for sale. The bank took $18,000 of them on its own account, and against this fund we have drawn through the City Treasury the sum of sixteen thousand five hundred dollars. The balance is now subject to our check.

On Wednesday, the 26th inst., at the request of the President of the Bank, two of our Commissioners called at the Bank to examine the remaining $82,000 unsold bonds and found them all in the original book and undetached. They have never been sealed or registered. The residue of the bonds will not be offered for sale until the money is needed for the completion of the work on the avenue.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—On Thanksgiving day this house was filled to such an excess, that both at the matinee and evening, hundreds were turned away, and ladies were glad to occupy the galleries. Last evening "Camille" was presented to a house that was very full. Miss Charlotte Thompson played "Camille" and Mr. Gotthold "Armand Duval." Miss Thompson was in her best voice, and in her acting, really excelled herself. She threw immense power into the different scenes, and she was vociferously applauded. Mr. Gotthold, of course, was good. His acting was all that could be desired. At the matinee to-day "Camille" will be presented, and this evening, for her last appearance, Miss Thompson will enact her favorite characters in the "Sea of Ice."

Every Word True.

The fashionable merchant tailoring house of Messrs. W. Hespenheide & Co., No. 50 Sixth street, are furnishing custom work, made to measure, and in a style that is not excelled by any house in the city, at extremely reasonable figures. But, it must not be inferred that because they have reduced the prices of suits that therefore the cloths are a cheap grade and the workmanship inferior. Their cloths for suits are of the best quality, while if you do not get a first-class fit and trimming in keeping with the cloths you select, you will not be asked to take them from the store. For cloth, fit, trimmings and workmanship they defy comparison. The cutting department is under charge of a gentleman who is acknowledged to have no superior in his line, and all who desire elegant fitting garments should give this house a call. They will give you fits and bargains and deceive no one in regard to character of their cloths. The best material and fit guaranteed at very reasonable prices.

Well, where? Why at the furniture store of J. N. Dryden & Co., No. 182 Federal street, Allegheny. Well, yes I have heard that they keep good and cheap furniture, and I'll buy there. How Comfortable.

The man who has a few hundred at deposit in a savings bank is rich indeed. And how easy to become a depositor. Having made the first saving, the second is easier, and the third still easier, and so on until the habit is formed, when it becomes more difficult to spend than to save. The habit grows and strengthens, and the deposits grow at such a rate that it soon becomes a matter of wonder how small savings accumulate so rapidly. And a first-class place to deposit earnings is the Smithfield Savings Bank, on Smithfield street, one door from Diamond street. None better.

Make Home Attractive.

The furnishment of a house or home is not without its effect in adding to the comforts and happiness of the household. And the furniture manufactured by J. Meyer & Son, Nos. 412 and 414 Penn street, (east of R. R. crossing) conduces to this end, on account of its newness and freshness of design, its beauty and finish and its durability. The East can not produce better, and no point of the compass can sell the same quality of furniture at rates so reasonable. A satisfactory place to purchase.

THE DAY OF THANKS.

Review of the Fire Department—Templar's Re-Union—The Grays Visit to Monongahela City.

The most interesting feature of Thanksgiving day, which, by the way, was very quiet and orderly, was the annual inspection of the Fire Department by the Fire Commission. The engines, trucks, and hose carriages and the men in charge of them, were stationed on Liberty street, above Ninth. The commissioners announced as the result of their inspection, that the department was in better condition than ever before. After the inspection had been concluded, the department was formed in line under the direction of Chief Engineer White and Assistant Hamill, and moving along Liberty to Market, to Fifth avenue and Smithfield, passed in review before members of City Councils, who had assembled at Municipal Hall. The column moved in the following order:

Chief Engineer White.
Eagle, No. 1, engine and hose carriage.
Niagara, No. 2, steamer and hose carriage.
Duquesne, No. 3, steamer and hose carriage.
Relief, No. 4, steamer and hose carriage.
William Phillips, No. 5, steamer and hose carriage.
Henry Hays, No. 6, steamer and hose carriage.
Harry W. Oliver, hook and ladder truck.
Hose Company No. 1.
Independence, No. 7, steamer and hose carriage.
Lawrence Company, No. 10, engine and hose carriage.
J. McCreighton, No. 8, engine and hose.
Mechanics, engine and hose carriage (South Side.)
Walton, engine and hose carriage (South Side.)
Hook and Ladder Truck Company C, reserve steam fire engine.
Fuel Wagon Paid Department.
Fire Alarm Telegraph Repair Wagon, Assistant Engineer Hamill.

The streets were thronged with people who witnessed the parade. One hundred and three firemen were in the procession.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR REUNION.

The reunion of the Steubenville Commandery of Knights Templar was a very successful affair. Some seventy-five Sir Knights, members of Allegheny Commandery, No. 25, Tancred No. 48 and Pittsburgh No. 1, attended. They went as members of Allegheny Commandery, and marched from the asylum in Allegheny, with Sir Knight Lee S. Smith as Chief Marshal, to the Union Depot where a special train (via the Pan Handle route) was in waiting. They were accompanied by the Great Western Brass Band, and left at fifteen minutes of eight in the morning. The Commandery was officered as follows: Sir William Slack, E. C., Sir J. E. Stevenson, G., Sir Peter C. Schidle, Prelate. The visitors returned to the city in the evening.

DUQUESNE GREYS.

Thanksgiving day being the anniversary of the reorganization of the Duquesne Greys, that battalion was out on parade in the forenoon, Lieut. Col. Guthrie commanding. Company "F," Captain Aull's command, went to Monongahela City. They were received by the Light Guards, under the command of Capt. J. D. V. Hazzard. The new Eighteenth Regimental Band, under the leadership of Eugene Staley, accompanied the Greys. On the arrival of the train a line was formed, and the companies marched and countermarched on the main thoroughfare, after which they dispersed until evening, when a hop took place at Odd Fellows' Hall. The street display would have been more imposing but for the fact that the streets were very muddy. The soldiers returned to the city yesterday morning, leaving behind them not only good impressions, but, as monuments of their gastronomical ability, numerous skeletons of turkeys, with which they had a hard fight.

THE JEOPARDIZED MONEY AND BONDS.

Legal Proceedings to be Instituted this Morning Against the Nation Trust Company—What the Finance Committee Intends to do.

Meetings of the Finance Committee were held Thursday and yesterday mornings. At the former meeting the following resolution, offered by Colonel Phillips, was adopted:

Resolved, That the Chairman of the Finance Committee, John R. McCune, and the City Solicitor be instructed and empowered to engage assistant legal counsel, if necessary, and to adopt such measures, and institute such legal proceedings as will insure the speedy recovery or security of all money and bonds belonging to the city and now in the Nation Trust Company, and report progress at the next meeting of the Finance Committee.

In conversation with a member of the Finance Committee yesterday afternoon, he informed our reporter that legal proceedings would be immediately instituted against the Nation Trust Company, to compel the stockholders to make good the amount claimed to be due from the bank to the city. He stated that the bank not only refused to recognize its indebtedness to the city, but he understood that some of the stockholders were transferring their stock in order to escape any liability that might fall upon them as the result of this matter, and, accordingly, City Attorney Bigelow will this morning, file a bill in equity asking the Court for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the affairs of the Nation Trust Company, and make a division of the assets for the benefit of the creditors. Hon. H. B. Swoope and D. T. Watson, Esq., have been secured as counsel to assist the City Solicitor in the prosecution. The directors and stockholders of the Nation Trust Co., we understand, have also obtained legal counsel and intend to fight the matter. The Finance Committee is, in a measure, working through a sub-committee, which we believe has in charge the legal proceedings that will be instituted to-day. So far as we can learn there is no disposition to cover this affair up. The exigency of the case demands the prompt action that will be taken this morning, and, after further investigation, criminal proceedings, we have been told, and by one who knows too, will be commenced against all persons in any manner criminally connected with the transactions with the Nation Trust Company. The Finance Committee does not propose to end with a mere examination of the affairs of the Water Commission and how they have been managed, but it is the intention to ask Councils for authority to investigate the condition of every commission that has anything to do with public improvements or the handling of the peoples money.

A Carbon Oil Casualty at Fort Wayne, and its Remedy.

(From Commercial, November 25.)

"Two kerosene lamp explosions occurred last night. A young lady was horribly burned, so that both arms will have to be amputated. The other explosion set the house on fire."

Why will people run the risks of these sad occurrences, when they can be absolutely prevented by using Elaine, the Family Safeguard Oil. Ask your grocer for it, and use no other, as it is positively safe.

Furs, Furs, Furs.

No lady can be true to herself or to her purse, who, in her search for furs, passes by the very large and very fine selections of these articles at the Hat, Cap and Fur Emporium of Messrs. Graham & McGregor, No. 46 Federal street, Allegheny. Their stock of furs is sufficient to gratify the taste of the most exacting and the most fastidious, being really beautiful and stylish. No old, moth-eaten stock, but all fresh, excellent in quality and of the most fashionable styles. Ladies, you should visit this house at once, and secure a set of the most elegant and beautiful furs at a price to suit the times.

Do Not Risk Health

By buying and wearing boots and shoes of an inferior quality, but look well to your feet and you fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease. It may sometimes be a matter of policy to be indifferent in regard to quality of other attire, but to a boot or shoe, especially at this season of the year, which is made up of shoddy material, is positively dangerous. But you say a good article costs too much and I cannot afford it. Not so, for at the Boot and Shoe House of Wm. Martin, 108 Federal street, Allegheny, you can have the very best quality of boots and shoes at prices which are wonderfully low. Good and cheap are the words that rule at this house. No better made, and none sold cheaper.

Great Bargains in Clothing.

Among the many clothing houses in the city we know of none at which the prices of clothing rule lower than at the Boston Clothing House, No. 95 Smithfield street, nor where the stock is larger or more varied in quality and style, to suit the taste and the means of all classes of purchasers. They sell nothing that is not in quality and fit, up to the standard of excellence. The reputation of the "Hub" has increased its business to an enormous extent. Purchase now as the stock is complete and prices are down to suit any pocket.

A Crisis has been Reached

In the clothing trade at the Boston Clothing House, 95 Smithfield street. The house is carrying an immense stock, made up in the best manner and in the latest styles, on which money must be had, and to do which rapidly the prices have all been marked down to such figures as must secure ready sales. The stock of boys' clothing is the largest and finest in the city, and the attention of parents is particularly called to the low prices at which it is offered. Overcoats of all qualities are offered at a reduction of about fifty per cent. from former prices. Now is the time to get clothing cheap, at the Boston Clothing House, 95 Smithfield street.

How Cheap and Yet How Good.

This is just what will fill the bill in the matter of suits during the present money flurry. The best quality of suits, manufactured from material rich enough for the richest, and yet cheap enough to suit the purses of all, are to be had at the Fashionable Merchant Tailoring House of Mr. M. T. Heckert, No. 47 North Diamond, Allegheny City. A person of most ungainly appearance when clad in one of his suits, becomes personable enough for all purposes. Try No. 47 North Diamond, for once, and see if you can be kept from trying again.

A Kentucky Tragedy.

LOUISVILLE, November 27.—A special to the Courier-Journal from Danville, Ky., gives the following particulars of a tragedy which occurred at Herrodsburg on Thursday evening: The trial of a law suit, in which P. B. Thompson, Sr., was the principal on one side, and Thos. Davis, Sr., on the other, was in progress, and each principal was attended during the whole trial by his sons, fully armed. At the conclusion of the testimony, while the lawyers were preparing the instructions preparatory to commencing the argument, a son of Thompson and a son of Davis moved toward the door. They were followed by all the others, and in a moment firing commenced, by which party it is not known. Many shots were fired, and Theodore Davis, Sr., and his son Larne were instantly killed, and Theodore Davis, Jr., was mortally wounded, and has since died. P. B. Thompson Sr., and his two sons, P. B., Jr., and J. B., Jr., were slightly wounded. Caldwell Davis escaped unhurt.

Cattle Stealing on the Texas Border.

MATAMORAS, November 27.—In a legal contest in regard to the validity of the sale of a lot of about two hundred hides, it turned out that four-fifths of them had been taken from cattle bearing Texas brands, which had evidently been stolen and crossed into Mexico. The brands of King and Kennedy, the largest stock raisers in Western Texas, prevailed, while the brands of many other Texas stock raisers were embraced in the lot. This is said to be a fair sample of the hide business in this section of Mexico.

ADDITIONAL MARKETS.

Live Stock.

ALBANY, November 28.—Beef cattle: the supply was only 210 car loads, or 122 short of those last week; market opens dull; sales at 7c for Illinois. Milch cows: receipts few; range $30@60 for common to good: few buyers. Sheep and lambs: receipts only 35 car loads, 12 less than last week; most receipts are gone forward in first hands; sheep—common to fair $2 per head; fair to good 4@5½c per lb; lambs—common to fair $2.50 per head; fair to good 5@6½c per lb.

CHICAGO, November 28.—Cattle: receipts 1,400; market dull and nothing doing in shipping grades; a few choice Texans sold at $4.25; stockers $3@3.25; shipments 1,270; receipts yesterday 2 832. Hogs: receipts yesterday 36,000; to-day about 22,000; market active, strong and higher at $4.10@4.30 for common to choice; the pens are well cleared; shipments last forty-eight hours 21,053.

PERNICIOUS PURGATIVES.

The brilliant idea of half a century ago that the weak and ailing could be bled, blistered and salivated into a condition of health and vigor is happily exploded; but violent and prolonged purgation is still, to some extent, in vogue. We have imposters who are daring enough to offer to the world, as tonics and restoratives, the most destructive cathartics, unmodified by a single stimulating, soothing or restorative element. Compare the operation of one of these terrible nostrums with that of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which are combined the three great curative elements—a tonic, an alterative, and an aperient. The former completely paralyzes the vital forces, so that nature can make no resistance to disease; the latter sustains the strength of the patient, while it restores the suspended functions of the secretory organs and relieves the bowels without violence or pain. It is simply a choice between restoration and prostration.
